

Create an open green space of grassland with scattered trees increasing in density to the east to help screen the public open space from the A143. The screen would also form an ecological corridor enhancing wildlife and biodiversity.

Pedestrian paths skirting the residential area along the edge of the public open space will connect the new with the existing. Flanking the path with avenue trees will create interest.

Surfaced path from Mendham Lane following the Public Right of Way (Angles Way) connecting the National PROW network with the Site to benefit the local community. Interpretation boards could be installed along this section of the route.

Possible natural play area with seating which could provide many health benefits.

Seasonal bulb planting for interest and ecological enhancement, encouraging insects and birds.

Extending the allotment could help to form social hubs, encouraging community cohesion and healthy living. Residents will be able to grow organic products for the benefit of the environment and the community.
